ANTARCTIC KRILL

WHAT IS KRILL MEAT?

Krill Meat, derived from Antarctic Krill is a highly nutritious and easily digestible protein source. Harvested from pristine Antarctic waters, it is rich in vitamins, minerals, astaxanthin, and omega-3s. With a 96-97% digestibility rate, it outperforms other protein sources by 21%. Krill Meat can be incorporated into various dishes such as sauces, salads, soups, and sushi.

High Protein

Each package of krill meat contains 15 grams of digestible protein.

KETO & PALEO FRIENDLY

High in protein and low in carbs, our krill meat is naturally keto and paleo friendly

EXTENSIVE SHELF LIFE

Packed in a saltwater brine and its own natural oils, our krill meat has a shelf life of 3 years

ABOUT US

Krill Arctic Foods (KAF) was founded after discovering the numerous health benefits of Krill as a protein source for human consumption during a trip to Eastern Europe. KAF partnered with Interrybflot Ukraine, which operates the only commercial factory vessel capable of processing Krill on board. As the exclusive sellers of Antarctic Krill Meat, Krill Arctic Foods aims to make this sustainable and nutritious seafood option widely available throughout the US. Our mission is to share the "Incredible Edible Krill" with American consumers, emphasizing its health benefits and unique taste. The members at Krill Arctic Foods have 40 years of experience in the seafood industry, ensuring quality and expertise in bringing this innovative product to the market.

THE INCREDIBLE EDIBLE KRILL

Around the world, healthy food consumption has evolved into a lifestyle for everyone. For a healthy life, seafood is the go to protein filled with vitamins, minerals, omega 3 fatty acids, antioxidants and many other health benefits. During and after the Covid19 pandemic people have become more health conscious and concerned with having nutritious meals to maintain a healthy lifestyle. This is why restaurants and other venues are constantly on the lookout for new health food options. Among them, the most promising up and coming superfood is Krill Meat. These shrimp-like crustaceans are incredibly nutritious and provide the important nutrients needed to support a healthy lifestyle. KAF's goal is to see our Antarctic Krill Meat on consumers tables across the US.
